"ABACUS" – Hilton, Boston Back Bay

What do you get when you put 10,000 wooden spheres and 6,500 metal tubes together?
A dynamic, site specific installation with tons of wow factor.

client:

Premier Project Management
Dallas, TX

This abacus inspired installation, along with the other industrial chic artworks, reminds guests of the building's origin, that of a 19th century engineering school. This installation consists of five 9 x 10 window screens and a companion 10 x 12 freestanding screen accompanying a vapor-based fireplace in lobby.
